III. Read the passage and choose the best answer to the following questions.

Many people continue to skip breakfast despite its being most important meal of the day. Busy people often rush out the door in the morning without giving their bodies the fuel they need to handle a long day at work. They end up feeling tired by the afternoon and resort to the office snack machine or biscuit tin.

Loysa Hourigan, from Nutrition Australia, said that catching up on food at lunch time did not provide the body with enough sustenance to keep it going for the rest of the day. "Even if you have had lunch, you won't have as much food as you need. Your brain gets depleted of glucose and you feel tired." Ms. Hourigan said. According to Ms. Hourigan, wholegrain bread and cereals provide endurance. Milk, eggs and baked beans provide protein, which helps people to stay alert. Rolled oats are also an excellent endurance food.

It is a custom in Britain and in most European countries to celebrate a person's birthday. Members of the family and close friends are supposed to be present at the party. If they can't come, they may send a gift by post. At the birthday party, the person who gives the birthday party opens all the gifts in front of all the people present and thanks them for the gifts.

The mother usually makes a birthday cake, or if she can't, she may order one from a cake- shop. A number of candles are placed on the top of the cake and will be lighted when the party starts. The number of candles is also the age of that person. After the light is out, they all sing a song "Happy birthday to you...." Then they play some games or sing or dance together.

IV. Read the passage and choose the best answer to the following questions.

All the tea in the world originally came from China. When drinking Chinese tea with a meal, it is usual to refill other people's cup before your own. Each time someone pours some tea for you, it is polite to thank the person pouring it. It is very rude not to drink some tea each time it is served.

When requesting your teapot to be filled in a Chinese restaurant, you should remove the lid and place it on the edge of the teapot. The waiter will then see it and get you some fresh tea. There is an interesting story of how this custom came about. A teacher brought his favorite pet bird with him to a tea house one winter's day. After finishing his pot of tea, he put the bird in the covered teapot to keep it warm. A waiter did not see that a bird was inside the pot and refilled the pot with hot water. Sadly, the bird died. From then on, it was said you had to remove the lid when you wanted some more tea. This was a sure sign that the pot was really empty.

IV. Read the passage and choose the best answer to the following questions.

Computing is now at the same stage as printing was when the first printing presses were used. Before printing presses were invented, only rich people like kings and dukes could afford to buy books. Often these people were unable to read and hadn't enough time to learn. In any case, the books were so big that it was difficult for anyone to relax with a book as we do today. They wanted books because they were expensive and there was something magical about them. Only a few people were able to write, and it took an extremely long time to write a book. Monks and other people who could write said ordinary people could not learn to read.

The position with computers is very similar today. A few years ago, computers were very large and expensive. Business managers and rich people ordered them but they didn't know how to use them. In many countries, however, the situation has now completely changed. Lots of people not only own microcomputers but also know how to use them.
